How to avoid electric shocks.

SilexSolar
Australian Clean Energy

Had any shocks like this lately?

Electricity prices are on the rise, so your bills aren't going to get any smaller without a change.

There is a solution.

Installing SilexSolar panels can dramatically reduce your electricity bills and even generate extra cash!

Check how with your local distributor.

Made in Australia for Australians'.

SilexSolar is the leading solar panel manufacturer, made right here in Australia. So by choosing us, not only are you supporting local industry, you also get the support and service that gives you the peace of mind no other manufacturer can offer.

“We're just around the corner, so we can provide the fastest response if you need technical support.

Our products also have a 25 year guarantee.”

You and SilexSolar can help reduce the green house effect on Australia, and our planet. Because other solar panels are imported, that means they've already left a large footprint just getting here.

So let's help save the planet and most of all save money on your electricity.

Superior service to maximise output.

There is one final shock, but it's a welcome one!

If your SilexSolar panels should ever need servicing or replacement under warranty, we are here in Australia to provide you prompt, efficient and hassle free support.

Visit our website at www.silexsolar.com to find your local distributor – and like us, they won't be very far away.
